TRIED TO BURN

Seventh Attempt of Firebugs in Paterson Defeated.

PANIC JUST AVERTED.

But for Prompt Action of One 1 Man There Must Have Been Loss of Life.

For the seventh time in the history of Apollo Hall, Paterson, and the third time during the present year, an attempt has been made to burn that structure during Its occupancy by a vast audience.

A concert of the Paterson Cricket Club drew a gathering of 1,500 persons to the place on Wednesday evening. There is an unused corridor on the Church street side unused corridor on the Church street side of the hall, and there, after the excitement of the latest attempt at incendiarism had subsided, and the police had been called upon to make an investigation, was found a mass of oil-soaked paper, which had been piled up against the thin partition and set on fire.

At the first appearance of the smoke a

At the first appearance of the smoke, a woman screamed "Fire!" and the great crowd in the hall arose. There is but one usable entrance to the place and if a stamusable entrance to the place and if a stampede had occurred, there would, of necessity, have been a heavy loss of life.

But the woman who had cried "Fire!" could not repeat her cry; she was pushed into her seat by her escort, and was silenced by his hand over her mouth.

Then John M. Hunter, who is Superintendent of Parks, in Paterson, and a famous cricketer, mounted a chair and told the crowd that there was no fire.

He had, he said, just been informed by the committee that there was no cause for alarm and that it was desired that the programme might be gone on with so that it could be concluded in time to permit of daucing. He requested every one to be seated and then announced the next number on the programme. The singers appeared on the stage, having been urged on by members of the committee behind the scenes, and even their affrighted faces did not spoil the good effect of Mr. Hunter's apparently confident speech.

The panic-stricken crowd, instead of botting madly, seated itself and listened all the time instead of watching the ever facerasing volume of smoke. It was no secret that there was a fire now, but the calmness of the few was contagious, and the audience remained seated even when the flames burst through the thin partition separating the main ball from the corridor on the Church street side. Then a corps of firemen appeared and extingulated the flames.

"All that is true," he said, with a broad smile. "The people of his district elected Mr. Sheehan header. That settles it. I fold Sheenau he was entitled to any partronage he could get, and I told him to go down to County Clerk's office and O'Nelli put back. That's all rhere is to it. Sheehan is leader now, but that will not prevent us from beating him next year."

Department heads yesterday refused to discuss the Croker-Sheehan episode further than to say that any accredited representations and his requests attended to, which, it is admitted, shows that Sheehan is in a sector position in the Tammany ormore than two years.
